BATCH OF BILLS.

Grand Jury Completes its Work
And Adjourns.

Mistrial in Murder Case and Matter Goes Over to June Term.

After three days deliberation the jury in the case of Pierce Ware and Blain Williams, under indictment for the murder of John Tandy at a negro festival near Pembroke last fall, reported Saturday that they were unable to agree upon a verdict and were discharged. The case will now go over until the June term. Dangerfield Ware, it will be remembered, got a life sentence last week on the same charge. Jersey, another of the Ware brothers indicted, was acquitted. Still another brother, Warfield Ware, is in jail, sick with fever and he will probably not be tried until the next term.

Jordan Baker, col., indicted for hog stealing, was convicted Friday and given one year in the pen. Baker has served time at Eddyville before. He has also served out several work house sentences here.

Ed Slaughter, indicted for malicious cutting in sudden heat and passion and fined $50 and costs. Slaughter cut Sam King at a gathering in the colored hall at Pembroke.

Joe Springfield, charged with malicious shooting, was convicted and his punishment fixed at one year in the penitentiary.

Ernest O'Neal, indicted for petty larceny, was given thirty days in the workhouse.

The case of Howard Mecham charged with forgery, was submitted to the grand jury. The body failed to indict and the young man was released from custody.

The grand jury completed its labors last week and adjourned. There were 35 indictments returned. Two bills were found against Lloyd Nelson, one charging wilful murder and the other malicious cutting.

Thomas M. Hill was indicted for shooting his father, Burton Hill.

CLARK-BRADLEY.

Popular Hopkinsville People Married in Evansville Sunday.

Lieut. Edward W. Clark and Miss Ella Bell Bradley were married at the St. George Hotel, Evansville, Sunday afternoon.

The groom is First Lieutenant of Company D and also delinquent tax collector of Christian county. He is a son of Mr. Watt Clark, of near Pon, and a most excellent young man.

His bride is the daughter of Mr. George Bradley and is only 18 years old. She is very pretty, possesses numerous accomplishments, and is very popular with a wide circle of friends.

Rev. Alex McCord went over to Evansville with the young people Sunday morning and tied the nuptial knot.

It was not an elopement, as there was no opposition to the match.

The bridal party returned to Hopkinsville Sunday afternoon and Lieut. Clark and his bride will board with the latter's parents, on East Seventh street.

TRIAL TO-DAY.

Defendant Claims He Can Prove an Alibi.

The examining trial of Lawrence Willis, of Canton, charged with the murder of his uncle, Lieut. Johnstone at that place ten days ago, is set for to-day at Cadiz. Willis stoutly denies the charge and claims that he will be able to prove an alibi.

BECKHAM'S FAVOR.

Judge Cantrill Thinks He is Eligible for Re-election.

Case Will Go to the Court of Appeals This Week For Final Decision.

Versailles, Ky., March 6.—Judge Cantrill this afternoon rendered his opinion in the case of Gov. Beckham vs. Chairman Young and the Democratic State Executive Committee, granting the writ of mandamus compelling Young and the committee to place the name of Beckham on the official ballot to be used at the primary election on May 9, 1903, which opinion holds that Beckham is eligible for re-election for the office of Governor.

THE COURT'S OPINION.

The text of the opinion follows: The question submitted is the construction of Sections 70 and 71 of the Constitution. Section 70 is that "He (the governor) shall be elected for the term of four years by the qualified voters of the State." Section 71 is that "He (the person elected for the period or term or time of four years) shall be ineligible for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which he shall have been elected."

Is there any ambiguity in the language used? We think not. Under these sections, the Governor is elected for four years, and the person selected for four years is the person who is ineligible for the succeeding four years. It does not matter whether he serves as Governor one or three years or the period of the term; but if he is elected for four years he is then ineligible for the succeeding four years, and under this plain language he is the only person to whom this ineligibility applies.

I think the plaintiff entitled to the relief prayed for, and the judgment will be so prepared.

THE JUDGMENT.

On this opinion the following judgment was accordingly rendered:

Woodford Circuit Court.—J. C. W. Beckham, plaintiff, against Allie W. Young, etc., defendants.—Judgment. Came John K. Hendrick and R. J. Breckinridge, by attorney, and offered to file their joint petition herein, asking to be made parties defendant herein, to which motion plaintiff, J. C. W. Beckham, objected, and said objections being considered were overruled, and said motion to file said petition is sustained, and the same is now filed, and said Breckinridge and said Hendrick are made parties defendant herein, to which ruling of the court plaintiff excepts; and also came defendants, Allie W. Young, Mott Ayres, John M. Lassing and Percy Haley, by attorney, and filed a demurrer to the petition of plaintiff, and thereupon came said Breckinridge and said Hendrick and filed their joint answer herein, and by agreement the affirmative matter, if any, in said answer, is taken and treated as controverted, and this cause is submitted for judgment; and being argued by counsel and the court being sufficiently advised, it is now adjudged that said demurrer be and the same is hereby overruled, and it is further adjudged that plaintiff is entitled to the relief sought, and that he is eligible to succeed himself as Governor; and the defendants, Allie W. Young, chairman; and Percy Haley, secretary, and John M. Lassing and Mott Ayres, are hereby ordered and directed to place the name of plaintiff, J. C. W. Beckham, as a candidate for Governor, on the ballot provided for the primary election to be held on the 9th day of May, 1903, for the selection of candidates for State offices, said Beckham to comply with all the conditions and regulations that hereafter be required of him by said defendants, Allie W. Young, chairman, Percy Haley, secretary, Mott Ayres and John M. Lassing, subcommittee.

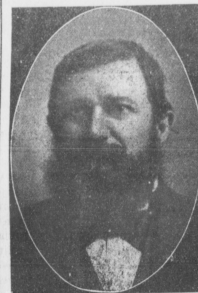

Defendants except to this judgment and pray an appeal to the Court of Appeals.

The case will go to the Court of Appeals by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

LOOKS A WINNER.

Figures Point to C. H. Bush as the Next Circuit Judge.

Judge Charles H. Bush spoke at Golden Pond, in Trigg county, last Saturday and spent yesterday in Cadiz. He will speak at Canton to day and has several other appointments in Trigg and Lyon counties this week, winding up at Wallonia Saturday. Reports from Trigg county are to the effect that Judge Bush's canvass of the county is adding many voters to his list of friends. Both sides now claim Trigg county, and it may be fairly set down as doubtful territory. Lyon county is admittedly for Judge Bush by a good majority. The Lyon county Democrats recognize that Christian county is clearly entitled to the judge this time, and will see that he carries the county by a substantial majority.

His friends in Calloway are well organized and have the situation well in hand. They promise to much more than offset in Calloway the votes Judge Bush may lose in his own county. His more enthusiastic friends in the lower counties now confidently claim that Judge Bush will come to his own county with a break-even, or with the majority so small that the 1,200 or 1,500 majority he is sure to get in Christian, will make his victory an overwhelming one.

The issues in this county are now so thoroughly understood that many changes are taking place. Considerations of public welfare will before the contest closes make the people of Christian county practically unanimous for Judge Bush. The people who are fighting him have never been able to control as many as 500 votes in the county.

Mrs. M. M. Diuguid, mother of Mr. W. A. Diuguid of this city, is dangerously ill at her home near Cadiz.

DIED IN TEXAS.

Sudden Taking Off of Former Christian County Woman.

Mrs. Maud Vaughan, wife of Mr. W. H. Vaughan, of Lubbock, Texas, and daughter of Mr. W. B. Pace, L. & N. agent at Herndon, this county, died suddenly one day last week at her home in the Lone Star State. She was about 25 years old and was married to Mr. Vaughan, who was then a resident of the Caskey neighborhood, several years ago. Shortly thereafter they moved to Texas, locating near Lubbock. Her husband is a prominent ranchman and has accumulated considerable wealth.

Deceased had many relatives and a great many friends in Christian county who will learn with sincere regret of her demise. The telegram bearing the sad intelligence did not give the cause of death. She was ill only about two hours.

Mrs. Vaughan visited her parents at Herndon last spring, spending two months with them.

MCALLISTER'S SALE.

Near Julien On Thursday of This Week.

The sale of Mr. J. S. McAllister's personal property, advertised in another column, will take place on Thursday of this week, the 12th inst., at his home near Julien. A large lot of live stock and farming equipments are to be sold and no doubt a large crowd will be in attendance. For particulars see the advertisement in this paper. There has been some confusion about the date, but the sale is the 12th and not the 21st.

Popular Nortonville Physician to Wed Paducah Woman.

The marriage of Miss Beulah Reddick, daughter of Dr. J. T. Reddick, of Paducah, and Dr. Robert Sory, of Nortonville, is announced to take place May 6. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of the bride by Rev. G. W. Perryman, of the First Baptist church of Paducah.

MEAT HOUSE ROBBERED.

Blood Hounds From Morganfield Brought into Action.

Thieves broke into Mr. B. W. Harned's meat house Sunday night and carried off a quantity of bacon. The police telephoned for Josh Taylor's blood-hounds at Morganfield and the animals arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon. We went to press before they had had time to make out a trail.

This is the last week of the groundhog's extension to winter, and signs of spring's approach are unmistakable.

LOUISVILLE'S GROWTH.

City's Population Now Placed at 222,000.

The new directory of Louisville published by the Carson Directory Company is completed and a few copies have made their appearance. The new volume contains 1,938 pages and, when the size of the city is taken into consideration, is a small and compact volume.

Miss Clara Aaron, who lives at 1959 Baxter avenue, has the distinction of being the person whose name appears first in the Louisville directory, and Joseph Zveiner, of 626 Lampton street, is the last person whose name is given.

A comparison of the names in the directory alphabetically shows that the Smiths are in the lead as to numbers.

The name John Smith appears no less than 88 times, and to all of the Smiths fifteen pages of the book are devoted, which indicates that there between 1,500 and 2,000 Smiths in the city.

The Browns come next in point of numbers. There are 10 pages of Browns, while only seven pages are given exclusively to the Jones family.

The number of names used in the new directory is 110,954, and using 2, the figure for the population as the proper multiplier, the population for January, 1903, is 221,908, an increase of 4,718 in the past year.

A Woman's Words of Praise.

Neesho Hall, Kans., Nov. 13, '01. Pepsin Syrup Co. Monticello, Ill.

Dear Sirs:—For almost twenty years I suffered from indigestion, and last winter thought I would die, when my doctor, Dr. A. J. Lieurance, of this place, advised me to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which I did, and now I am cured. I am not only relieved, but I cured me so that I have not been troubled since. If any one should offer me $500 for the good Syrup Pepsin has done me, I would not think of taking it. No one can take your medicine without being convinced of its more than wonderful cures. I recommend it to all my friends as a laxative and stomach remedy. Yours with gratitude, Mrs. J. MORGAN.

Widows Numerous.

There is no town in Kentucky that has as large a per cent. of the population invested in widows as Harrodsburg. In that town there are 192 marriageable widows; or, in other words, fully one third of the population is composed of them. Most all of these are in good circumstances, and it might be to the interest of noble hearted bachelors of Jackson to make a quick in vestigating tour of that bluegrass city.—Jackson Hustler.

FRENCH FURNITURE.

Attempt to Restore or Replace the Beauties of Old Times.

An enterprising proprietor of one of those enormous "universal" bazars in Paris, from which Zola drew his "Bonheur des Dames," has offered a prize for such designs in furniture and house decoration as shall best typify and reflect the civilization of the third republic. His astute proposal has drawn attention not only to the importance of his own establishment, but to what he no doubt considers the secondary question of whether such designs are possible at all, and what the "Style Troisième République" may fairly be considered to be. There is, of course, no shadow of doubt that the cafes of Montmartre and the studios of the Quartier Latin have long ago composed their answers to a challenge so seductively held out. They will create you a style as light-heartedly as they will destroy a government, and with just a little communication about the ultimate verities involved.

In reality, says the London Telegraph, our enterprising bazar keeper of Montmartre is not so original as may be imagined. For some years a perfect contagion of eccentricity has raged across the continent, under the name of "L'Art Nouveau." The year just closed has seen several exhibitions inspired by the same repudiation of everything traditional. In Vienna, in Berlin and in Munich what are called "secession" galleries have been filled with skillful monstrosities. At Turin the same tendency was everywhere observable. Artists have wandered off in debaucheries of meaningless decoration; jewels have twisted gold and enamel and precious stones into the newest deformities of an extravagant impropriety.

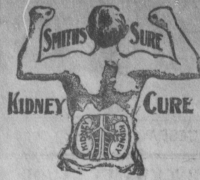

For very many years France was the center of the artistic light in Europe. In many ways she must be still. But death blow was dealt to more than that monarchy by the events of 1789. Throughout the eighteenth century French art, fostered by the centralizing influence of the "grand monarque," gradually increased in the varied power of its expression. At the death of Louis XIV. two styles, associated with the names of his immediate successors, were logically and beautifully developed, which have been the joy of collectors ever since. They inherited the rich harvest of the sixteenth century of a renaissance which took its whole departure from the central principle of the rehabilitation of the individual. Temples were forgotten, for houses had to be built. Artists turned from monumental work to lavish a divine ingenuity on the production and decoration of objects in which the personal motive was predominant. The chateau called into harmonious service all the larger arts; furniture became the epitome of all the lesser. On such foundations worked the men who made eighteenth century furniture from France, whose names were Jean Lamour, Caffieri, Boulle, Charles Cressent, Riesener, Gouthiere, whose collaborators were Watteau, Fragonard, Boucher, Natoire, Van Loo, Huet, Van Sappendorp. You may see a line specimens of their work as exist anywhere in the Jones collection at the South Kensington museum or in the Wallace collection at Hertford house. Everywhere reigns good breeding. Not a trick of fashionable coquetry is lost, or of that "sweet disorder in the dress, kindling in clothes a wantonness," which is as far from grossness as it is different from modesty. The artist had an exquisite tact, a happy license, an attractive piquancy in those days when convention had a greater influence on life and conduct than it ever had before or since. "Better die than be ungrateful" was his motto, and in it is all the charm of a gallant, careless, aristocratic age that has passed away forever. It bloomed the fairer because it was on the verge of an abyss. The guillotine cut off at a stroke the old traditions of spacious luxury for which the exquisite furniture of Louis XV. and XVI. has been created.

Red Color in Battle.

The number of soldiers slain in battle depends a great deal on the color of their uniform. The more conspicuous the helmet and jacket the better the target, and consequently the greater the mortality. Red attracts the eye most readily, and is worn in red-green, or six in blue, or five in either brown, blue-gray or gray.

HOW A FASHION ORIGINATED.

Story of the 4,000,000 Squirrel Skins American Women Are Wearing.

A government found itself with tens of millions of soft, gray squirrel skins on its hands. These it could not get rid of.

One day, says the New York World, a famous dressmaker of Paris heard of these skins and a brilliant idea came to him. "I will make a market for your skins," he is said to have told the government, "if you will make it worth my while."

Now the government—which is that of Russia, for this is a true story—was very anxious to turn its vast stock of skins into currency, and an agreement, they say, was made with the Paris dressmaker.

That is how the squirrel-skin coat fashion is said to have started and why a certain maker of coats for the aristocracy of the French capital has developed much wealth in the past few months.

The only gray squirrel skins in the world that are soft enough and fine enough to make beautiful garments are those of Russia. Only Russian skins are used in the garments seen in New York.

These skins pass as currency in Siberia, and the peasants often pay their taxes in them, the government having accepted them from time immemorial. In consequence vast stores of the skins are in the possession of the government. As they produce no income, the officials are constantly seeking some means of disposing of them.

The fashionable dressmaker found his work easy. He made up some beautiful coats of the skins and induced a number of his leading patrons to buy and wear them. Immediate success followed. The new coats caught the fashionable fancy, and the dressmaker was swamped with orders for the garments.

In an astonishing short time the fashion had spread to London, Berlin and New York and thence throughout the civilized world.

The Paris dressmaker reaped a double reward—from the introduction of the fashion and the sale of the coats.

As many as 5,000 skins are used in a single garment, but a very short coat may be made of 150, and 300 is generally used. There are from 15 to 30 days' work for one man in a garment.

The Siberian squirrel looks like the American squirrel. A cheerful, active, bustling animal, it increases with great rapidity and is trapped with ease. The most common sort of trap is made in the fork of a hollow tree. Here a store of nuts is set and the section of wood upon which the squirrel must stand to reach the nuts is set on a kind of pivot, so that the squirrel's weight causes the bottom, so to speak, to fall out of the tree fork and the animal is suddenly dropped down through the hollow trunk into a little chamber under the soil. Immediately, then, the pivoted section of the wood springs back into place again and the trap is set for another victim.

The darkest, handsomest and most expensive Siberian squirrels are found in the Scamania district, near the Arctic circle. They are very scarce. A blouse of them—a blouse reaching only to the waist—costs $350. A coat reaching a little below the hips—costs about $350. An automobile coat, coming to the knees, costs $500. The next best quality of skins come from the Talutsk district, and the next from the Yenesei district. The cheapest skins (a light color, tinged with red) come from Tobolsk and Kazan.

Squirrel skins are all dressed in one place—in Weissenfels, a town that produces a chemical clay and salt to be found nowhere else. This clay alone will cure the skins in a proper manner. Twenty firms there are engaged in this business. America imported last year only 30,000 squirrel skins. These skins cost on an average 12 cents apiece. This year America has imported, up to the present time, 4,000,000 squirrel skins. They cost, on the average, 35 cents apiece.

Clay "Butter."

It is not generally known that in many parts of the world clay is eaten on bread as a substitute for butter. This is termed "stone butter," and is used in Germany. In the northern parts of Sweden earth is often baked in bread, and is sold in the public markets on the Italian peninsula, as well as on the Island of Sardinia, Persia, Nubia and other tropical countries. This practice probably had its origin in the knowledge that all earths have some sort of flavor, and take the place of salt, a necessary ingredient in all kinds of food.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Nature dates womanhood from the period when the womanly function is first established, so that nature's little women are school-girls, shop-girls, etc. And therein lies a danger. This period is one of the most important in a woman's life, the mental effort of study, the physical effort of labor, are doubly exhausting at this season, and coupled with neglect or ignorance are often responsible for irregularity and other womanly ailments.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may be relied upon during this period, as it does through maternity and the later change of life. This great medicine establishes regularity, dries weakening cramps, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Two years ago my daughter's health began to fail," writes Mrs. Dan Hall, of Bradford, Green Co., Wis. "Everything that could be thought of was done to help her, but it was of no use. She kept falling and I got up, thinking she must die. I must say, Doctor, that only for your 'Favorite Prescription' my daughter would have been in her grave today. When she had taken one-half bottle the natural function was established, and we bought another one, making only two bottles in all, and she completely recovered. Since then she is as well as can be."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold FREE on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for covers of mail, and a copy of mailing ONLY. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

We are authorized to announce
JOHN C. DUFFY, of Christian county, as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney for the Third Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election November 1933.

We are authorized to announce DENNY P. SMITH,
of Trigg county, as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney for the Third Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election November 1933.

The candidacy of such men as Malcolm Yeaman, of Henderson, and Chas. H. Bush, of Hopkinsville, for positions on the circuit bench, is a source of public satisfaction. They are lawyers of recognized ability and long and successful practice, who will prove to be valuable additions to the judiciary of Kentucky.

One of the factious organs calls attention to the fact that Beckham and Yerkes did not engage in joint discussions in 1930, and cites this as a reason why Beckham should not meet his opponents this year. The conditions in that race were just as they are in this one—Beckham was unable to meet his opponent on the stump. If nominated again, he would still be incapable of defending his administration from charges of corruption and immorality, and the party would have the same load of inefficiency to carry that handcarried it in 1930, when only the fear of pardons for the Goebel assassins prevented a defeat. A change of one vote to the precinct would have wiped out Beckham's slender majority, and this time there is at least one Democrat in each precinct who believes that Beckham has no right to force himself upon the state again.

Chairman Young has given out a statement that the committee of the State Executive Committee, appointed to arrange for a State primary, had "adopted a rule prohibiting local committees from holding primary elections in any county before May 9. If this statement is true, this attempt to usurp authority is even more flagrant than the call without authority. The subcommittee has no such power, nor has the entire State Committee, or both committees, in any county. It is a plain attempt to usurp authority and to prevent the primary election from being held on May 9. The calling of county conventions or primaries, real, entirely, with county committees and the State Committee, as a whole or in part, has no right to interfere except in cases of disorder.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured
With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, cataract is a blind or constitutional disease and is cured by cure. If you must take internal remedies, Hall's Cataract is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and internal surfaces. Hall's Cataract is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country (forty years) and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the internal surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing cataract. Send for testimonial free.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them. They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and in ten days it was gone. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Mrs. J. A. Woods, Rutherford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

ing claims and then it is the State Central Committee and not the committee appointing the sub-committee that has power to act. It will be interesting to know where Chairman Young gets his excuse for throttling the will of local committees in their own affairs.

ANOTHER VOTING CONTEST.

Beginning on next Monday, March 16, the KENTUCKIAN will inaugurate a voting contest to determine by a popular expression of opinion what citizen is entitled to the distinction of being the ugliest man in Christian county. There are quite a number of good citizens whose absence of personal pulchritude is very noticeable, but some one of course is entitled to the honor the KENTUCKIAN seeks to confer. Some poet whose identity has been lost in the mass of truth piled round his poem has said:

"Beauty is but skin deep,
But ugly is to the bone;
Beauty soon will fade away,
But ugly holds its own."

This contest will of course be conducted upon goodnatured lines. No votes will be cast for any one who does not authorize it by announcing his candidacy.

It is also proper to add that selfish motives will be eliminated by barring all persons connected with the KENTUCKIAN's editorial or business departments.

It has also been suggested that one or two prominent business men in Hopkinsville, whose qualifications are universally recognized, should be barred, but this will not be done.

It is a free for all, and the victor will be allowed to win upon his own merits.

The prize, in addition to a gold medal, will be a valuable one to be announced hereafter.

The medal will have a mirror on one side, in which the wearer may admire himself at all times.

Candidates who enter the race will be required to pay an announcement fee of ten cents and formal announcements are invited and will appear in Friday's KENTUCKIAN. The contest will begin next Monday and run several weeks. It will be conducted upon the same lines as the Popular-Lady contest.

QUEST OF HONOR

At the New York "Southern Society" Dinner.

New York, March 9.—The box which attracted most attention at the annual dinner of the Southern Society at New York at the Waldorf-Astoria, in this city, was that of Judge C. P. Moore, of Covington, Va. Its guest of honor was Miss Hattie Ermine Rivers, the Southern belle. Miss Rivers was dressed in a white lace princess costume, made wholly from the lace of her great grandmother's wedding gown and reserved for great occasions. The slim sophomore's popularity in New York was evinced, when she entered the box by numbers of the diners rising and lifting glasses.

Mr. Allen Caberton Braxton, of Staunton, Va., who was a conspicuous leader of the state's Constitutional Convention, by a neat turn in his speech, made reference to Miss Rivers' Revolutionary novel is at present such a success. "Our type of the Southern Citizen," he said, "has great difficulties to cope with. But the South possesses 'Hearts Courageous' to overcome all." The allusion was heartily applauded.

KENTON MINSTRELS

Make a Big Hit in Their Show
Friday Night.

The Audience Was One of the Largest of the Season.

The Kenton minstrels gave a performance Friday night to a thoroughly appreciative audience, that filled the opera house to overflowing.

The show went through without a hitch and many local hits added to the fun of the occasion.

The music was under the direction of Prof. Hillie's orchestra, which made fine music.

Clifton Long, Charlie Duke and Guy Starling, all sang solos from time to time and were invariably called back. Ben Winfree, George Howell, Jim Cook and Tom Underwood were the end men and they cracked jokes in regular minstrel style, and sang comic songs.

In the chorus were Messrs. Jas. A. Young, Lawson Plack, Charles McKee, Frank Byars, Ellis McKee, Prof. Alexander, Emmett Hooser, Will Starling, James Winfree, Alex. Overshiner, Robert Fairleigh, James Wootton, Lewis Ellis, Douglas Hancock and Emmett Jones.

Mr. Clifton Long was the interior and made a good one.

Ben Winfree's dancing was a popular feature. He also gave a clever monologue.

Guy Starling and Chester Walker also got off some specialties in this line.

Herman Weistern gave some sleight-of-hand performances.

The performance closed with an attractive drill by the S. K. C. bugle corps.

Loss of Flesh

When you can't eat breakfast, take Scott's Emulsion. When you can't eat bread and butter, take Scott's Emulsion. When you have been living on a milk diet and want something a little more nourishing, take Scott's Emulsion.

To get fat you must eat fat. Scott's Emulsion is a great fattener, a great strength giver.

Those who have lost flesh want to increase all body tissues, not only fat. Scott's Emulsion increases them all, bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

For invalids for convalescents, for consumptives, for weak children, for all who need flesh, Scott's Emulsion is a rich and comfortable food, and a natural tonic.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

MOST UNIQUE

Stage Individuality Found in Theatrical History.

"Weary Willie", one of the principle characters in "The Convict's Daughter", a sensational scenic melodrama to be presented at Holland's Opera House Tuesday night (tonight), Mar. 10, is undoubtedly the most unique stage individuality found in theatrical history. He is a "hobo" but not the typical tramp of star truck-riding fame. He is educated, philosophical, cynical, magnanimous, self-sacrificing and his heart contains the metal of a man under all circumstances.

His life teaches a wholesome moral lesson. Hounded, threatened even with death while in the toils of the villain, with the stigma of a crime he did not commit on his life, he bears himself with commendable courage through all his misfortunes.

The hour of his great triumph comes when a dying man confesses he is guilty of the crime for which "Willie" suffered, and in restitution bequeaths to him—like the famous Monte Cristo—a valuable mine and other property, making him rich and happy. Then his time for vengeance on the venomous villain comes, but it is tempered with mercy and charity for a ruined banker. Altogether it is a rare stage character and one that possesses extraordinary interest for every student of human nature and particularly for theatre-goers.

PORTABLE HOSPITALS.

Are Recommended by the Health Department of Chicago.

Portable hospitals are recommended by the health department of Chicago. They are no longer experimental, but have been thoroughly tested by the United States army medical service and adopted for emergency use in the field and as a contagious disease adjunct to its permanent hospitals. The Imperial board of health of Germany has established depots of these hospitals, whence they can be shipped to any point in the empire where an epidemic of diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, etc., may appear.
After the epidemic has been suppressed the pavilion is taken down, disinfected, and returned to the depot for storage until again required.
As Chicago is 28 miles long, the suggestion seems decidedly commendable, as a single isolation hospital would be expensive, and would not answer in epidemics. The Bulletin says that since the beginning of the year there have been 556 deaths in Chicago from diphtheria, and only four from smallpox, and that, since the introduction of the antitoxin, diphtheria may be as "successfully handled" as smallpox. The hospital pavilions are procurable of any desired capacity, but the size recommended as most economical of administration will accommodate 14 patients, with nurses' room, bathroom, kitchen and all other requisites of a complete hospital in itself. It is desired to secure several of these to be stored when not in use. "When epidemics of diphtheria and other contagious diseases appear in a locality one or more of these pavilions, as needed, could be set up in the infected district within two or three hours, and the work of stamping out the infection be effectively begun."—American Medicine.

BOSTON RAISING COTTON.

Lesson in Practical Botany Given Scholars in the Hub.

So that the pupils in Boston schools may be able to study the cotton plant in its various stages of development from the time it begins to flower until the bolls send forth its fleece contents the city has gone into cotton growing. Out in the city greenhouses in Dorchester Mr.
Doogue, the city forester, has raised nearly 200 of these plants, which are being distributed among the high and grammar schools of the city. Each school is supplied with a generous number of plants in different stages of development.

Several years ago Mr. Doogue began to experiment with cotton seed, with the result that to-day he has one of the most extensive displays that is to be found anywhere outside of cotton growing districts. One large greenhouse is devoted almost entirely to the cultivation of these plants.

The species of cotton plants under cultivation by Mr. Doogue is the gossypium Barbadeense, or Sea Island cotton, long staple. These plants originally were natives of India, being afterward transported to the West Indies and thence to the United States.

BELL THAT CALLED COLUMBUS—Interesting Historical Relic That Is Now in Washington.

There is a bell at Washington whose history dates back to the very beginning of modern civilization on this continent. It is a trifling affair as regards size, its dimensions being only 8 by 6 inches; yet its notes, says the Pittsburg Dispatch, sounded to call the great discoverer, Columbus, to prayer and sacred worship. It was brought from Spain in December, 1493, and set up in a church at San Domingo. It was the special gift of King Ferdinand, and bears the initial of his name ("F") in old Gothic characters upon its surface. When La Vege, the new city of the plains, was founded church and bell were bodily removed to it. There its notes smote upon the air to summon the tardy Spaniards to mass, and served, how frequently none can tell, to recall to the mind of the venturesome explorers memories of their sunny homeland located far away across the sea.

Linguistic Cabmen.

Linguistic cabmen have just appeared in the streets of Dresden.
The police have issued a decree enjoining that cabmen who speak foreign languages must indicate on a leather armband in colors the particular tongues they have mastered—English, French, Italian, Russian,
etc. One of the cabmen, a Hungarian, can scarcely find place on his arm-band for the inscription of the numerous languages he professes to speak, for there are eight of them.

Aged Citizen, Succumbs to Second Stroke of Paralysis.

Mr. David J. Hooser, one of the oldest citizens of Christian county, died about six o'clock last Friday morning at his home in this city, of paralysis. He suffered a stroke last December, from which he partially recovered. On March 1 he received a second stroke and remained in a semi-conscious condition until the end came.

Mr. Hooser was in his 91st year and was a native of Todd county. In early life he learned the tinner's trade in Clarksville and became a citizen of Hopkinsville about sixty years ago. For many years he was a member of the firm of Hooser & Overshiner, and later he and Mr. H. C. Ballard were engaged in business together. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge and a life-long member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Hooser was twice married. His first wife died many years ago. He is survived by a widow and the following children: Mrs. Annie Savage, Mrs. J. B. Girard, Misses Ella and Julia Hooser, Mrs. J. E. Hooser and Mrs. Barbara Griffith.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Saturday morning, conducted by Revs. E. L. Southgate and Francis Lee Goff, and the interment took place in Hopewell Cemetery, the Odd Fellows officiating with impressive ceremonies.

Nothing so thoroughly removes disease germs from the systems as Prickly Ash Bitters. It gives life and action to the torpid liver, strengthens and assists the kidneys to properly cleanse the blood, gives tone to the stomach, purifies the bowels, and promotes good appetite, vigor and cheerfulness. R. C. Hardwick.

PAID CASH

For Layne Land and Will Take Immediate Possession.

Mr. J. F. Myers, of Troy, Tenn., who some time ago bought 120 acres of the C. G. Layne tract of land on the Fairview pike, has purchased the remaining 100 acres. He paid $12,200 cash for the farm. Mr. Myers will move to Christian in a few days and take possession of his property. He will spend several thousand dollars in improvements.

Sour stomach, fullness after eating, flatulence are all caused by imperfect digestion. Prickly Ash Bitters corrects the disorder at once, drives out badly digested food and tones the stomach, liver, and bowels. R. C. Hardwick.

WEALTHY CITIZEN

Ol Guthrie Dies of Pneumonia After Brief Illness.

E. Walton Northington, a wealthy young man of Guthrie, died last Thursday of pneumonia. He was 32 years old, unmarried and lived with his mother and sister. The remains were taken to Clarksville and interred in Greenwood cemetery. Rev. J. S. Cheek, of Russellville, held services.

Bloating after eating, indigestion, flatulence or water brash, may be quickly corrected through the use of Prickly Ash Bitters. It strengthens the digestion, cleanses the bowels. R. C. Hardwick.

Small-pox in Mild Form.

Several cases of small-pox are reported near Roaring Springs. The disease is in a very mild form. Every precaution is being taken to prevent a spread of the disease in that section.

TWO GOOD PAPERS

Read at the Athenaeum Meeting Thursday Night.

The Athenaeum met Thursday night with 18 members present and held a most delightful meeting. There were three papers, but Col. Jouett Henry was kept away by a social engagement and his paper was continued until the next meeting.

Mr. Geo. E. Gary had a very thoughtful and carefully prepared philosophical paper on "Truth and its Correlatives." While the subject matter was very profound, the diction was elegant and a vein of humor ran through the paper that made it a most interesting one from start to finish. The last two lines of his epilogue were:

"If he be here who never told lies,
He may the primal stone be fit."

The editor of THE KENTUCKIAN was the first man to accept the challenge.

Mr. Gordon Nelson next read a paper on "Tobacco," with which his business has made him very familiar. It covered the weed in its various stages and the present methods of controlling the tobacco market provided a general discussion. A wide range of opinion was developed and the discussion proved to be one of much interest. Mr. Nelson's paper was a well written one and showed a thoughtful consideration of a timely and appropriate topic.

The next members on the program will be Prof. A. C. Kuykendall, Col. Jouett Henry and Rev. W. L. Nourse.
